

What Your Support Means to The Bridge

Your generous support means that The Bridge is able to be at the forefront of providing youth ages 0 – 17 with intervention services for behavioral, emotional and psychological disturbances. The Bridge strives to combat the barriers affecting a family's ability to access effective, outcomes-based treatment, including cost, accessibility, stigma associated with mental illness, and lack of family involvement. We can only do this in genuine partnership with our donors. For its geographic area, The Bridge is the premier comprehensive agency for children and families to receive mental health services, regardless of their ability to pay. Again, this could not be achievable without our donors' steadfast support.

The following is just one of the many true stories from The Bridge – a story that may not exist without the selfless generosity of our donors.

Recently, The Bridge served a four-year-old boy named John, who threw violent temper tantrums at home and daycare. Daycare was threatening to expel John if his behavior could not be controlled. At their wit's end and with nowhere else to turn, John's parents called The Bridge. Through therapy at The Bridge, John's behavior slowly began to improve at home and at daycare. His parents were thrilled with the continuous improvements and his mom beams, "Thanks to the help we got from The Bridge, I no longer feel like a failure as a parent and I fell in love with my son all over again."
